Message from the President and Principal

Thank you for your interest in this role and in Queen Mary University of London. Working at Queen Mary means being part of a unique, world-class global University with a long, proud and distinctive history.

Our founding institutions, the London Hospital Medical College, St Bartholomew's Medical College, Westfield College and Queen Mary College, were founded to provide hope and opportunity for the less privileged and otherwise under-represented.

Today, we remain true to the vision of our founders by continuing to improve lives locally, nationally and internationally through the seamless combination of our world-leading strengths in education and research.

The Queen Mary community – our staff, students and alumni – is the heart and soul of our University. We are proud to provide an inclusive and nurturing environment so that staff and students from all backgrounds can develop, flourish and achieve their full potential.

I look forward to welcoming you to our unique University and working with you to realise our ambitions.

Professor Colin Bailey, President and Principal

Our strategy 2030

In 2019, Queen Mary University of London launched a bold new Strategy with the vision to open the doors of opportunity. By 2030, we will be the most inclusive university of its kind, anywhere. We are doing this by building on our existing cultural diversity to create a truly inclusive environment, where students and staff flourish, reach their full potential and are proud to be part of the University. Continuing our long tradition of commitment to public good, we will generate new knowledge, challenge existing knowledge, and engage locally, nationally and internationally to create a better world.

We have five core values that will help us to reach this goal:

We are inclusive, supporting talented students and staff regardless of their background, and engaging with our local and global communities.

We are proud of the difference we can all make when we work collectively.

We are ambitious, fostering innovation and creativity, disrupting conventional thought, and responding with imagination to new opportunities.

We are collegial, promoting a strong community through openness, listening, understanding, co-operation and co-creation.

We are ethical, acting with the highest standards, and with integrity, in all that we do.

To enable our staff to flourish and to reach their full potential throughout their employment at Queen Mary, we offer a range of benefits:

Staff benefits

- Annual leave – the full-time annual leave entitlement is 30 working days (not including bank holidays).
- Season ticket loan scheme
- Pension scheme
- Reward and recognition schemes
- Staff Networks
- Cycle to work scheme
- Qmotion sport fitness centre

Job description

Job details
Job title	Lecturer in Business and Society (Teaching & Research)
School/Dept/Institute Centre/Faculty	School of Business and Management
Reports to	Head of Department: Business and Society
Grade and salary	Grade 5 through 6
Hours per week	Full time
Appointment period	Indefinite
Current location	Mile End
Work activity type	Teaching and Research

Job context

The School of Business and Management is one of the eight schools in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. The School has been undergoing a period of rapid growth, doubling our number of academic staff over the last five years. We presently have 90 academic staff. We have over 1,600 undergraduate business studies students plus approximately 800 students taking business in combination with other degree subjects within QMUL. At the post-graduate level we have approximately 800 MSc students and a well-established doctoral programme of around 80 doctoral students.

SBM's core purpose is to promote social justice, sustainability and good governance in the management of private, public and voluntary organisations through our research and education. We are a distinctive School that takes a humanities and social science-led approach to our scholarship, and are now the largest school within QMUL's Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, with its traditional strengths as a site of critical thinking in the humanities, law, history, geography and politics.

The Department of Business and Society brings together colleagues, committed to excellence in teaching and research, with a wide range of expertise from different disciplines. In our teaching and research we focus on how business and management influence society (for example, in economic development, through innovation in environmentally beneficial products and systems, through responsible management practices, by management in the non-profit and public sectors and in businesses in the creative and cultural industries), and how society shapes business and management (for example, through law and regulation but also through changing norms and expectations for equality and diversity and environmental sustainability).

The Department is seeking a Lecturer who can lead and deliver modules in business and society, ethics and business, local business environments, and who has a keen interest and expertise in new methods of pedagogical engagement suited to our particular and diverse cohorts of students. We are seeking a lecturer with the capacity for collaborative and interdisciplinary research and knowledge exchange, and the capacity to publish at an internationally excellent level.

Ranked in the top 10 in the 2014 Research Excellence Framework, Queen Mary University of London, is one of the UK's leading research-intensive higher education institutions, delivering world class education and knowledge transfer across a wide range of subjects in the Humanities and Social Sciences, Medicine & Dentistry and Science & Engineering.

Job purpose

The Lecturer will contribute to the intellectual life of the School and wider institution and research field of business and society. They will make contributions to student education and experience through curriculum development and the delivery of teaching activities in the subject area of business and society.

In line with the University of London standards for the conferment of the title Lecturer the post-holder will:

- Make important research contributions to the field;
- Advance the research subject through publications, creative works or other forms of performance;
- Deliver quality teaching including making innovations in key aspects of teaching and learning;
- Contribute to the administration of School and/or university teaching and research activities;
- Maximise opportunities for public engagement in the subject;

Main duties and responsibilities

Research & Scholarship

1. Conduct original research into complex problems, ideas, concepts and theories to obtain new knowledge;
2. Publish original research of a quality that is excellent in renowned, relevant, specialist and generalist outlets/media in a manner appropriate to the research, academic discipline, QMUL strategies and funding requirements;
3. Engage with the research community at an appropriate level, e.g. via conferences, advisory or editorial bodies, research funders, referring and research reviews;
4. Develop personal research funding strategy and make quality bids for funding and manage and awards appropriately with collaborators within QMUL and beyond;
5. Use research to engage in a broad range of activities that influence society, economy, industry, government or public policy;
6. Contribute to a research group's aims to successfully recruit and develop PhD students in line with the School and QMUL strategies;
7. With training recruit, guide and develop personally assigned PhD students to the successful completion of their research programme.

Student Experience & Education

8. Make some innovations in teaching and learning through the development of teaching materials, forms of pedagogy, or appropriate teaching collaborations;
9. Organise, design and deliver teaching and assessment as required by the School, Faculty and QMUL; this will include delivering lectures, classes and seminars in core and specialist subjects with due regard to best practice and the overall teaching strategy in the School;
10. Act as a Personal Tutor providing effective support to students, including referring to specialist services as appropriate and proactively identifying engagement issues at an early stage.
11. Actively contribute to curriculum development and the review of courses in accordance with the teaching and learning strategy of the School, Faculty and QMUL.

Leadership & Collegiality

12. Foster collegiality through role-modelling and fulfil School responsibilities as agreed with the Head of School or other senior colleagues;

13. Support the development of junior colleagues and their career development through line management, coaching, mentoring and appraisals as appropriate;
14. Make constructive contributions to the vision and leadership of the School and QMUL, as well as wider relevant bodies, such as learned societies;
15. Engage in the wider QMUL agenda (e.g. Equality & Diversity; Sustainability; Internationalisation; Widening Participation; Interdisciplinarity and Staff Development) in line with QMUL strategies and policies.

Public Engagement & Impact

16. Disseminate technical and applied knowledge in renowned, relevant, specialist and generalist outlets (e.g. blogs, interviews) in a manner appropriate to the profession and QMUL;
17. Support and contribute to public engagement initiative and activities;
18. Participate in the School's outreach plans, developing links with, for example, industry or community partners in the UK and/or overseas;
19. Contribute to the successful exploitation of partnerships with government bodies and industry for the benefit of student education and experience in the School and Faculty.

The above list of responsibilities is not exhaustive and the jobholder may be required to undertake other duties commensurate with the level of the role, as reasonably requested by their line manager.

This job description accurately reflects the duties and responsibilities of the role at the time the job description was written. These duties and responsibilities may change over time without significantly impacting on the character of the role, the overall level of responsibility, or its grade.

Depending on strategic or operational needs, the jobholder may in the future be required to work for another existing or new organisational unit and/or at a different site within Queen Mary. This may be on a temporary or indefinite basis and may involve a change in line management and / or regularly working at more than one site.

Equal Opportunities

Queen Mary University of London is a Russell Group University with a difference. Our vision is to be recognised across the world as the most inclusive research-intensive University. We will strive to achieve that goal.

To all the communities at Queen Mary, inclusivity is key to who we are and to achieving all our ambitions.

We are a multi-faculty institution teaching undergraduates and postgraduates across all the major disciplines. We offer more than 280 undergraduate courses. We have world-leading research across disciplines and were ranked 5th in the UK in the last Research Excellence Framework (REF) for the quality of our research outputs, and continually challenge ourselves to ensure we have an environment where everyone feels included and can flourish.

We are very proud of our teaching and learning and were awarded a 'silver' in the Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF) (2016-17). We are also deeply embedded in the local community and were the first UK University to be awarded an Engage Watermark Gold award for public engagement by the National Coordinating Centre for Public Engagement.

Unlike many other Russell Group universities, we attract a very diverse student population. Of our 25,000+ students, over 30 per cent are from non-EU overseas countries, and 9 per cent are from the EU. Our international students are drawn from over 160 countries. 90 per cent of our home students are from state schools, 59 per cent are Black Asian Minority Ethnic (BAME), 42 per cent are the first in their families to go into higher education and over 30 per cent are from households where the household income, as assessed by Student Finance England, is less than £15,000.

We attract a lot of local students, owing to our strong relationships with schools in the surrounding boroughs, coupled with a strong reputation for inclusivity. 37 per cent of our students commute to our campuses daily. Our staff body is also diverse and is drawn from over 162 countries.

Inclusivity is one of our fundamental core values at Queen Mary: it is intrinsic to who we are. Our diversity of cultures and backgrounds is key to the vibrancy of our community and to the knowledge and ideas we are able to generate and pass on; without that diversity, we would not be who we are. We are extremely proud that we attract such a diverse staff and student body, and are fully committed to providing an environment where everyone is supported to flourish and fulfil their potential, irrespective of their background.

To be truly inclusive requires sustained, proactive, hard work, and we know there are areas where we have work to do. Our core objectives are focused on reducing the BAME attainment gap and increasing the proportion of female and BAME staff at the higher grades, both for academics and for Professional Services. We are looking to see how we can 'hard-wire' inclusivity throughout all our policies and practices: we do not see this work as belonging to one team or unit, but rather as being embedded in all that we do.

Being inclusive makes us better at everything we do, it improves our daily lives and the delivery and impact of our work.

EDI Initiatives

Queen Mary is committed to advancing Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) and champions a number of EDI initiatives across the University. Queen Mary holds a Silver Institutional Athena SWAN award for advancing gender equality, and is also a Stonewall Diversity Champion and commits to advancing LGBTQ+ inclusion by submitting to the Stonewall Workplace Equality Index. We also offer a number of development programmes including Springboard, Aurora and B-MEntor. We are committed to championing EDI relating to all protected characteristics and other underrepresented and marginalised groups under the Equality Act 2010. We offer 'Introducing Inclusion' training for staff to give them an understanding of EDI related issues and provide them with the tools needed to champion inclusivity and embed best inclusive practice in all the work they do. EDI is built into everything we do at Queen Mary, and is championed through a well-established governance structure. If you are interested in learning more about Equality, Diversity and Inclusion at Queen Mary and how to get involved then please contact hr-equality@qmul.ac.uk.

Flexible working:

Queen Mary is proud of the diversity of its staff and students. We encourage inclusive practices in everything that we do, to ensure that everyone who works here feels valued and enabled to have a positive working experience. We are therefore open to considering applications from candidates wishing to work flexibly, balanced against business need. Our Flexible Working Policy includes examples of some of the flexible working arrangements that could be considered. If you feel that this is something that may be of benefit to you, please do ask.

Family Friendly Policies:

Queen Mary recognises the commitments that staff have to their family and the importance of work-life balance. To support this Queen Mary offers a range of family friendly policies with enhanced rates of pay available for family-related leave, following a qualifying period of service.
